Skating Carnival--The Glorious Fourth--Terpsichorean Novelty--A Lovely Drive--Leafy Curtains--More Picnics--A Wedding--A Dull Week--Circus Parties--Society Cos-sip--Personal.

What children of impulse and caprice we are. Grasping eagerly for every joy within our reach, like the veriest child cradled within its mother's arms! Just now the latest innovation in the amusement world is roller skating. Papas, mammas, and the little folks are all within the thrall of the treacherous little wheels. Ladies and gentlemen who go down to the rink of an evening as spectators, and watching the graceful figures as they fly around the prescribed circle, swaying this way and that with a pretty abandon, the music, the lights, the pretty girls and gallant young men, yield to the irresistible fascination, and straightway form many a desperate resolution to conquer or perish in the attempt. But the half has not been told. Surely Forepaugh to day has not a mountebank who can present contortions more ludicrous than the incidents that constantly happen within that charmed circle. Great long legged men who look like so many immense spiders with four limbs corresponding to the points of the compass suddenly transformed into something that suggest thousand legged worms lay struggling prone upon the floor. Sweet little maidens who collapse suddenly, sink down all of a heap and wait patiently the minions of gay cavaliers who rush to the rescue. Anon our handsome young man falls devoutly on his knees only to spring up instantly a little shame-faced, and is lost in the flying throng. Two gay young men of this later period gallantly assist a dear little matron who is struggling frantically and bravely on four pairs of wheels, when a great horrid man, following closely in the rear, skillfully inserts his skate in that of the lady's and succeeds in throwing the whole party, much to the utter weariness and disgust of one of the gentlemen, who considers it all "a deuced bore, you know," and who gently tilts a rather abbreviated nose as he gazes disdainfully after the guilty party who, with a muttered apology, precipitately retreats, covered with glory nevertheless. Said one pretty little matron in the morning class, on being complimented on her rapid improvement: "I fell seven times this morning, but I went home, got 'my baby to sleep, resolved that I would do or die," and the little feet, tired of waiting, carried their owner carefully underneath the rope and deposited her comfortably on the sawdust so useful for that purpose. Yet these tumbles are of small moment, no one seems to suffer much inconvenience, and nothing daunted, persistently try again until they have at last acquired that gliding motion so long coveted. Mr. Neely, the courteous and gentlemanly proprietor of this popular resort, although not a skater himself, is a most delightful instructor, and when occasionally conducting around the rink the new beginner, who is vainly striving to maintain an equilibrium, seems to smooth all difficulties. "You see," he says, "it's just like waltzing, and he roddily hums a pretty little waltz, while the little lady, with every individual hand standing on end in hysterics, instantly sees how appropriate is the simile, as each of the eight wheels is dancing a separate line of its own, and is forced to leave the rink in a huff, to the great merriment of the spectators.

First, because they possess all the merit of the genuine porous plaster, and contain in addition the newly discovered powerful and vegetable combination which acts with invincible, stimulating, sedative and irritant effects.

Second, because they are genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and are recognized by the profession.

Third, because they are the only plasters that relieve at once.

Fourth, because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth, because over 5000 physicians and druggists have unanimously testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth, because the manufacturers have received the medals given for porous plasters.

SATURDAY, JULY 8.

THE CITY.

Circus day.

John D. Olds went to Southern Illinois last night.

Mrs. Col. Scott will shortly pay a visit to her old home in Topeka, Kas. Charles Marsh was summoned by telegraph to Michigan, where his brother was drowned while fishing.

Hon. and Rev. Gilbert De La Muyer was in the city to-day and offered consolation to a select circle of deluded greenbackers.

The silver plated roller skates to be given to the best lady skater by Mr. Neely are on exhibition in the show window of Root & Co.

For the benefit of numerous individuals who bore our reporter with questions, we will say that H. G. McDowell was not re-incident.

A project is on foot to put a portable floor into the Academy and use it as a skating rink. This will not interfere with theatrical performances.

On the 13th inst., the U. S. courts convene here, with Judge Drummond of Chicago, on the bench. The case of Robinson vs. Bass, Simons et al., will come up.

Tom Radway, an old time circus clown, has been in the city for several days. He tried, without success, to secure an engagement with Forepaugh's circus.

The charges in the Ames divorce case we are assured, are not at all sensational, but only such trifles as cruelty, abandonment and failure to provide are charged.

Brelsford's bucket shop was pulled hard yesterday by lucky speculators in pork, lard, oats, corn, &c., who frequent the place. The imperturbable Harry handed out his bundle without a muscle of his face relaxing.

The grand jury adjourned yesterday until the September term, reporting seven indictments, two against the Nichols woman. The other parties are not arrested and the nature of the indictments is suppressed for the present.

The horse of J. Kegelmann, of East Wayne street, supposed to have been stolen at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, turned up yesterday afternoon near the toll gate, where he was quietly browsing by the roadside.

Prof. W. F. Heath, of this city, and one of the most accomplished musicians in the state has been deservedly honored. He was elected secretary of the National Music Teachers' association now assembled in convention at Chicago.

The young fellow Clark, mentioned yesterday as having tumbled into the St. Joe river from a boat, recovered his silver watch this morning. An experienced swimmer dove and struck the tickler shining at the bottom of the river bed at the first descent.

O. S. Knight, who is now in charge of the gas office here, is a member of the Logansport common council, his term not expiring until May. He goes to that city every month to attend council meeting, and has not missed a session during his residence here.

There is a youth who has apartments in the Keystone block and as a part of their furnishing is a wheezy organ. This instrument the young man or his numerous guests insist on pounding until the other tortured dwellers in the building groan with pain. He must let up.

Last night J. F. Stanwood, a passenger on the Pittsburg train from the east, got off the car to stretch his legs on the platform, and pursued his walk to a saloon on Calhoun street. While wetting his whistle the train moved out and he was left. A telegram was sent to the conductor to dump the delayed passenger's baggage at Warsaw.

While THE SENTINEL thoroughly approves of the grand jury indicting the prostitutes and in cleaning out the dens of vice which are engulfing our young, we are nevertheless constrained to ask to what profit it all when any not overly sharp lawyer can walk into the criminal court and quash any of the indictments upon error. The county cannot afford to swell the expenses of the new burdensome criminal court by this child's play.

Last night Sheriff Osgrove arrested Martha Nichols, alias Jenny Wren, the keeper of the notorious Bloomingdale brothel known as the "Nichols rappe," two indomitable bitches having been sent against her by the grand jury, one for being a prostitute and the other for keeping a house of prostitution. She gave a full confession with H. H. Miller's name still today, the last train to Frankfort.

N. Somers, of the Knobles House, attended Forepaugh's show today.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hart and Ed Phillips, of Decatur, are in the city.

A number of the artists of Forepaugh's show are registered at the Mayes.

Charley Melchimer and Adnah Hall, of Bluffton, were in the city today attending the circus.

Forepaugh's circus train consists of forty-nine cars, which are equal in length to seventy-five ordinary freight cars.

O. W. Cross, of Cincinnati, has accepted a position in the Pittsburg machine shops. Mr. Cross formerly resided here.

The cash boys of Root & Co. will play a match game with the west end boys next week. Cash boys are called the Golden Star.

The neat advertising program of Forepaugh's circus was printed at THE SENTINEL office, and was liberally patronized by our merchants.

Sheriff Osgrove was on roller skates for the first time last night. He took several tumbles, but persistently stuck to the acrobatic pastime.

The more than $4,000,000 earned by the Pennsylvania Railroad company last month is the greatest showing ever made by any railway in the world.

Mrs. H. Hartman, of 130 East Washington street, left this morning for a two weeks' visit to friends and relatives at Hanover Center, Lake county, and Chicago.

The Studabaker vs United States Express company trial will very likely come to a close Wednesday evening. Mr. Thomas H. Moore, the gentleman who sealed the package in the Cincinnati bank, is present.

The contract for building the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad round house and repair shop was awarded to M. Baltes & Co., and the contract, duly signed, was forwarded to headquarters yesterday by Hon. William Fleming, director of the road.

The Forepaugh street parade this morning was an imposing pageant and was witnessed by thousands. The monster elephant, "Bolivar," was in the procession, and twenty one smaller elephants. The horses, chariots and in fact everything testify to the liberality and enterprise of the great showman.

A. G. Dinnen, brother of Dr. J. M. Dinnen, of this city, has established another grocery and meat market at 519 West Madison street, Chicago.

Mr. Dinnen already has a grocery and meat market at 661 and 663 West Madison street, where, beginning with comparatively nothing save his energy and enterprise, he accumulated a fortune.

THE SENTINEL gives the usual warning to our citizens to carefully bar the doors and windows when they go to the circus. The several detections with the Forepaugh show assure us that there is a gang of housebreakers following the show who operate just outside where there is no police protection. These fellows also "work" the excursion trains.

The Columbia City Herald says: "Rev. J. R. Stone, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church at Fort Wayne, has resigned his pastorate of that church, and goes to Lansing, Mich., to take charge of a church at that place. Mr. Stone has been at Fort Wayne many years, and by his most excellent work has made hosts of good and true friends. We wish him success in his new field of labor."

A charming girl, who is a favorite of society, writes to us a note from which we excerpt: "I just think you are real mean. My attendant cavalier didn't show up last night and I consequently did not get any ice cream, or go to the roller rink. You are positively horrid in scaring away our boys, who, if they are to be made fun of in this cruel way, will go to saloons and other wicked places, instead of calling on the girls!"

Wednesday morning Forepaugh's show train was thrown off the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad just east of Wooster, Ohio, and seven cars ditched. The greatest confusion prevailed for a while. Two men were found to have been instantly killed and several badly injured. Many animals were killed and two car loads of horses badly injured. Most of the horses and animals escaped.

We have advices that a fast mail train will soon be put on the Wabash line, connecting with the fast train on the Lake Shore line at Toledo running through this city and by way of Hamtramck, Mich., to Council Bluffs. A special agent of the post office department has been making a tour of investigation, and pronounces the Wabash line of much greater value than the fast train.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

The Venerable Geo. Boshler, of Pleasant Township, comes to the City Yesterday and Disappears—The Police in Search.

Yesterday morning, Mr. Geo. Boshler, who lives with his son, Frederick Boshler, in Pleasant township, came to Fort Wayne to see his wife, who is with her daughter Mrs. Wm. Theil, 366 West Main street, undergoing medical treatment. He took with him some butter and eggs, which he sold at M. Gruber's grocery store, 16 Wilt street, where he left his team, saying he would return shortly and get the money for the produce. He then left ostensibly to see his wife and daughter on Main street, but as it proved never went there, nor did he appear at the residences of any of his friends in the city. Near Gruber's, where he was last seen, an ill favored man accosted Mr. Boshler and the two walked away together. Nothing has been seen or heard of him since. Mr. Boshler is eighty-four years of age, but a hearty and vigorous old man. He had a sum of money on his person, but how much is not known. He was not in the habit of touching intoxicants, so there is no reason to believe he is off on a spree. Last night, his son Fred and grandson, Julius, came to the city and notified the police, who were last night on the lookout for the old gentleman, but failed to find him. Captain Diehl and Mr. Fred Boshler are to-day engaged in making search for the missing man, and have visited all the hotels and other places where he could possibly be, but so far without success.

LATER.

This morning, about 10:30, old Boshler was found wandering near the organ factor in a dazed way. When accosted, he said he had no remembrance of how he got there. Though hitherto in full possession of his faculties, the old man's mind is evidently enfeebled, and the second childhood has come upon him. His clothing was wet and disarranged, showing he had wandered about all through last night's storm.

THE FESTIVE WOHLGAMUTH

Effects a Reconciliation With His Wife—His Soreness Over Mrs. Malloy's Caustic Remarks—How She Kissed Him at Frankfort.

The Wohlgamuth-Malloy scandal is still fresh in the minds of our readers, and it will be remembered that Wohlgamuth signified his intention to forever abandon his wife and follow Mrs. Malloy in the role of a lover. The Wabash Courier says: "Evidently William has changed his mind in regard to living with Mrs. Wohlgamuth again. He remarked repeatedly that he would never be the first to make overtures looking to a reconciliation. This, however, was before Mrs. Malloy gave him that dressing down. Perhaps it is better that the two should go together again. Without him Mrs. Wohlgamuth would have led a miserable existence, while reunited there is a probability that she will be happy. But in this community William Wohlgamuth is a played out citizen. He never can hope to be respected by the persons who are intimately acquainted with his history within the past few months. If, by chance, he ever succeeds in life it will be far away from his old home, in the midst of strangers, who will extend to him that charity which is withheld by the people here."

Elsewhere in the paper the Courier says that "to show what a puissant fellow Wm. Wohlgamuth is, the Courier has only to narrate a little circumstance which occurred last week. It will be remembered that on the witness stand he stood bravely up for Mrs. Malloy and threw himself into the breach which seemingly yawned for her. He was the only party who had gone wrong and he alone should receive the censure. This was all very pretty and sounded well, but when Mrs. Malloy began to tell just what kind of a citizen she thought him to be, William was touched to the quick. He expected that she would make a few mild remarks regarding him and then climb down from the stand. Instead, however, of letting the capricious Bill off with a little good advice, she excommunicated him from the word "go," and William listened in pain and amazement. For a day or two he managed to keep his indignation within bounds, but at last got the better of him and he delivered himself of a few statements which in themselves stamp him as an ass. In conversation with a friend of the temperance cause, Bill said that he was astonished to hear Mrs. Malloy talk as she did. 'Why, down at Frankfort, when she told me—'

Two Acquittals.

This morning James Cahill, for larceny of a dog and saddle, was found guilty and given sixty days in jail and $5 fine. Judge Withers suspended sentence during good behavior.

Otto Drier was acquitted on the charge of stealing $24 from a man near New Haven.

PRESS REPORTS.

Open Letter From Otto J. Forepaugh, Prop., Hotel "Behning" City, Niles, Michigan.

In with no small degree of satisfaction I express myself as to the magical life-giving and healing properties of Dr. Behning's Electro Oil. A cure of my eye disease, which affected my eyes, and with rheumatism having suffered terrible pains I tried remedies and our local doctors with but little relief. As a favor however, I did not give up, and after a while I had half a 50-cent bottle and feel as well as ever I did in my life. — J. DOEBEKG.

EQUITY OF THE PRESS OVERCOME.

For fifteen or twenty years I have been troubled with that terrible disease, called also my sight of small and large, also my right eye, which affected my eyes, and with rheumatism having suffered with no success, and finally resolved to overcome my prejudice and take one more trial, which I did with Dr. Behning's Electro Oil, and after a while I began to feel better, the improvement rapidly increased, now I consider myself nearly as well as ever. — G. M. HOLCOMBE, 220 Main Street, Bloomingville, Ohio, 2nd by all druggists. Price 50 cents a bottle.

SATURDAY, JULY 8

LOCAL LINES.

The markets were thronged this morning.

Charley Day, the popular press man, is again here with Forepaugh.

Andy Thieme, the Broadway grocer, returned from a trip to Germany this morning.

Miss Bertha Spencer, of Bluffton, is the guest of Miss Lou Wells, of 119 West Washington street.

A Calhoun street car, en route to the show grounds, broke down this afternoon. It was too heavily loaded.

Miss Ada Mounir, of Warsaw, is in the city the guest of her brother, Nelson Mounir, of the Harmon house lunch room.

Misses Lillie and Jessie Miller, of Montpelier, are in the city, visiting Miss Mary Leonard, of 94 West Water street.

This morning, Adam Forepaugh purchased a beautiful cream colored stallion from a farmer at the circus grounds for $300.

A building permit was issued this morning to Fred Uebelhor to erect a frame house on lot 26, Ewing's second addition, to cost $900.

During the procession to day Levi's South Calhoun street store was invaded by thieves and the money drawer containing $40 removed.

Adam Forepaugh will build a $500,000 residence, a veritable palace, in the outskirts of Philadelphia this fall.

The indications for the lower lake region are partly cloudy weather, local rains, southerly winds and stronger temperature and pressure.

Among the incidents of circus day, were the numerous rustic couples lurching on the court house steps, while restaurant men gnashed their teeth.

Last Saturday night in a Calhoun street saloon, a young man named Geo. Gable had a watch picked from his pocket by a sneak thief who was to day seen in the city. He may be run in before night.

Mr. Adam Forepaugh has instructed his attorney, Mr. Hinch, not to take a default here on the calling of the Millie Christine libel case against him. Mr. Forepaugh will come on here personally in December to attend court.

The mayor's order that the police must keep out of saloons is misunderstood by many patrolmen. The real meaning of the order is that they must keep out of these places unless on business. Their own discretion will serve to direct them when to enter these places, either to apprehend a criminal or to quell a disturbance.

A. Faulkner, of North Madison, had his wrist horribly mangled while oiling a plainer.

"When I publicly testified that I had been cured of a terrible skin humor by the Cuticura Remedy, I did so that others might be cured, and do not regret the time given to answering inquiries." — Hon. William Taylor Boston.

Catarrh. — Believed in five minutes in every case; gratifying, wholesome relief beyond a money value. Cure begins from first application, and is rapid, radical and permanent. Ask for Sanford's Radical Cure Complete for $1.

Certain buffaloes are common in Ceylon, white ones being sometimes found.

Dandruff

Is removed by the use of Cocosine and it stimulates and promotes the growth of the hair. Burnett's Flavering Extracts are the best.

Eagles carry living prey to their young and teach them to tear and kill it.

Promptly and Entirely.

Butler, Ind., June 14, 1882. — H. H. Warner & Co.: Sirs — Your Skin Kidney and Liver Cure relieved me promptly and entirely from severe disease of the kidneys and liver. Julius Beaver.

No spot of the same size on the surface of the earth contains as many volcanoes as Java.

"Nature is the mother of invention." Diseases of the liver, kidneys and bowels brought forth that sovereign remedy Kidney-Wort, which is nature's normal curative for all those dire complaints. In either liquid or dry form, it is a perfect remedy for those terrible diseases that cause so many deaths.

In a life of sixty years one must have eaten about thirty ten of solids and liquids.
